

Facts and Fiction

HERITAGE OF KANSAS

Heritage of Kansas is based on, directed toward, and published for the people of Kansas. Through this publication it is hoped that interest in Kansas cultural heritage will be stimulated in the hearts and minds of its readers, and that they will become consciously aware of the living reality of Kansas and Kansans. Therefore, the Heritage of Kansas is made available to schools for use by teachers as supplementary classroom material, to libraries for display and circulation, to newspapers for possible use in their columns, and to other interested groups and individuals.

As far as possible, each issue will be built around one topic, with three approaches. Ideally, one section will be a factual essay contributed by some expert on the subject. A second section will be an "eyewitness" account of the subject. A third section will be devoted to the folklore dealing with the subject. Each of these approaches should contribute something different—and something vital—to an understanding and appreciation of Kansas and its people.

Sometimes this general organization may not be possible. Nonetheless, the material, both written and pictorial, will have been chosen for its value as a contribution to knowledge about the heritage of Kansas—past, present, and future.

General editor, P. J. Wyatt, Department of English; cover design by Department of Art, Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, Kansas.

VOLUME IV

FEBRUARY, 1960

NUMBER 1

HERITAGE OF KANSAS is published four times a year, February, May, September, November, by the Department of English of the Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, Kansas. Application for entry as second-class matter made February 1, 1957, at the post office at Emporia, Kansas, under the act of August 14, 1912. Entered as second-class matter at Emporia, Kansas. Postage paid at Emporia, Kansas.