

CONTENTS

THE MAKING OF A CELEBRITY: IMAGES OF GENERAL CUSTER IN HARPER'S WEEKLY By William E. Hantzicker	1
PRUDENT PLAIN PEOPLE: THE HUTTERIAN BRETHREN By Lawrence C. Anderson and Michael Engelhart	11
LEBANESE IMMIGRANTS IN SOUTHEAST KANSAS By Pat Kuhel	17
GEORGE A. GRAY, PIONEER, CLAY COUNTY, KANSAS By John R. Warner, Jr.	31

CONTRIBUTORS

William E. Hantzicker is Assistant Professor of Journalism at the University of Wisconsin - River Falls. Raised in Custer County, Montana, he has presented a number of papers on General George A. Custer. He will contribute a chapter on frontier journalism in a forthcoming book on the history of journalism edited by Wm. David Sloan.

Lawrence C. Anderson is Professor of Geography at Mankato State University. His scholarly research has been in Plains polar lands, agricultural geography, "Plain People," and recently, Hutterite settlement patterns. Mr. Michael Engelhart teaches English and German at Sauk High School and has a research interest in German settlements.

Pat Kuhel is a doctoral candidate at the University of Arkansas in 20th century American literature. She was formerly an instructor in English at Pittsburg State University. Her research interest is the folklore of Lebanese immigrants, and she has published folk tales in the Little Balkans Review.

John R. Warner, Jr. is Professor of Sociology and Chairman of the Department of Sociology at West Virginia Wesleyan College in Buckhannon, West Virginia. Juvenile justice and rural crime are his main research interests. This article is from an inquiry into his family history.